

Agent Open House Tuesday 11-1

105 Bull Street B

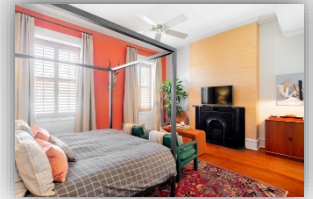

Harleston Village :: Charleston

MLS# 20000274 :: $819,900

Incredible opportunity to own a meticulously restored light-filled condominium in historic Bee's Row. These homes were taken over during the Civil War by William C.

Bee, who owned a blockade-running firm. This unit comprises the entire second floor and underwent a high-end renovation with a modern flair, while keeping true to the historic significance of the building. 11+ ft. ceilings, original wood floors and trim, and oversized windows blend seamlessly with the interior design of this unique property. Offered fully furnished minus art and accessories, this unit is truly a turn-key, lock and leave opportunity. Located in historic Harleston Village, it is an easy walk to King St, Colonial Lake, and Broad St. This property has been dry during past storms. List of renovations available. Check the documents section for a list of renovations and finishes.
