Don't miss this bright, open and airy, light-filled home with soaring ceilings in Stonoview, Johns Island's most convenient and amenity-rich neighborhood, where the homes are low maintenance and it's all about lifestyle. The home is set on a special, more private homesite, which backs up to a pond and is next to greenspace, with a neighbor only to one side. You'll initially be welcomed by the full front porch, a Lowcountry must-have perfect for rocking chairs and neighbor waving.
