This 3-bedroom, 2-bath, 1,792-square-foot home is the classic lakehouse getaway you have been looking for, and it's on the main water. Once you walk inside this ranch-style home, you will notice the hardwood floors throughout the home and the spacious, open floor plan of the kitchen/living area. Every room in the front of the house offers a beautiful lake view. Attached to the kitchen is an oversized, screened-in porch with a full view of the lake, perfect for your morning coffee or dinner in the afternoon while you watch the sunset. Downstairs, the garage space offers a sink but already has the plumbing for a shower and toilet if you want to add it.

The mancave is unfinished but is the perfect area to build a space that is unique to you and does include a mounted tv. The home has a sizeable stationary dock, a floating dock, and a boat ramp for easy access to get your boat in and out of the lake.

Located in Prosperity, South Carolina, you get the luxury of some peace and quiet, but you are less than an hour away from downtown Columbia and a short drive to Greenville or Spartanburg.
