

MISSING

Average height, brownish eyes I think, mortgage lender, not returning calls, been missing at least a year.
Please call if you've seen him - I have questions on my mortgage!

Has your mortgage partner gone missing?

Are you happy with the mortgage service and advice that you have gotten in the past 6 months from your lender?
Are you receiving underwriting updates, requirements and stipulations...without asking for them?
Does your current lender keep you informed about the latest underwriting changes and latest loan programs?

With almost 80% of loan officers having left the business in the past 12 months, it's possible your lending partner is no longer in the industry.

Can you see the wisdom of at least getting a "second opinion" at this point to protect your business?

It doesn't cost a penny to talk..call me today !
